

Opportunity for research students at NWBC 2020

The Foundation Troëdsson Paper Engineering Travel Grant announces via RISE a scholarship for a postgraduate student who participates in Nordic Wood Biorefinery Conference 2020 with a presentation.

The winner is appointed by a committee, appointed by RISE, based on performance, the subject's assessed importance and quality. The scholarship applies for a 3-month stay at the RISE Bioeconomy division to work with your own research or participate in a R&D project within forest industry research and development within RISE Bioeconomy's business areas. The scholarship covers the fellow's costs in connection with the stay up to 25,000 Euro. A report on the work performed and its benefit to the doctoral student and RISE as well as financial accounting shall be submitted to RISE in connection with the end of the stay.

RISE Bioeconomy

Bio-based forestry products should be able to replace many of today's fossil-based products. Our Bioeconomy Division drives the transformation to a circular economy in collaboration with industry and academia. We work throughout the value chain, from raw materials to processed bio-based materials, fuels and packaging. Our test beds with industrial pilot and demonstration facilities are important to the upscaling of processes for future biorefineries.
